Mills Oakley offers a specialised telephone legal advice service available to Family Day Care educators and services. You can access 12 months of telephone legal advice for issues arising in your business – and all you pay is one low fixed fee.

Mills Oakley was voted “Law Firm of the Year” at the Australasian Law Awards in 2017, and has offices in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Perth and Canberra.

Our experienced team have advised and acted for countless Family Day Care educators and services for a number of years. We have an in-depth understanding of how your businesses operate and the obligations imposed on educators and services by the relevant legislation and regulations.

Note: The telephone legal advice service provided is subject to the terms and conditions contained in our Costs Agreement and Disclosure.
